

- Hi Path = Alfa X Path pedagogy is a very effective and complete approach towards child centric learning which aims at the holistic development.
- The activities described in the books together with the instructions given for the teachers are very clear and easy to understand and they aim to achieve the desired results.
- The books are thoughtfully structured targetting the main areas of concern for example - strokes, number understanding, sound recognition.
- Home stretch activities ensures active participation by parents and develops confidence in the child.
- The problem faced by children and parents while learning English as the third language (specially the words of soldiers in the Army) has been addressed well.
- Buddy system creates teamwork, full participation, active learning, child led learning, critical thinking and problem solving.
